

ASSIGNMENT OF COURSE NAME AND NUMBER TO SINGLE RESOURCE BOSS COURSE

BACKGROUND

An analysis of NWCG Single Resource Boss (SRB) position tasks found numerous commonalities. Currently, responders are required to take S-230, Crew Boss (Single Resource), as the foundational course for all SRB tasks. However, the recent revision of S-230 shifted the curriculum to focus more on Crew Boss-specific tasks, rendering the course less relevant for those pursuing other SRB position qualifications. Each SRB role, with the exception of Felling Boss, Single Resource (FELB), has a position-specific training course, which include variations of training for these shared tasks.

CURRENT STATUS

To prevent duplicative efforts and reduce redundant training for responders qualifying in multiple SRB roles, a singular course covering these common tasks is being developed. This online course aims to enhance development efficiency, ease of maintenance, and minimize the impact on delivery. This course will provide the foundational knowledge necessary for SRB position-specific courses.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended to assign the following course number and title to the new SRB course: S-229, Single Resource Boss (Online).
