The call was taken from P410 Fire Prevention Education Team Leader class in Redmond, OR. Four of the committee members were in person in the room and it was an opportunity to introduce the students to the NWCG committees and subgroups, which are established and organized to accomplish the overall NWCG mission. They provide leadership to and represent the major functional areas of wildland fire management.

We introduced the committee members, our parent committee liaison and the NWCG leadership to the student and spoke about how the committee operates and what kind of projects we work on.
