BOOSTER SHOTS UPDATE(Adams)

Alexis originally brought the idea to the committee. Ted Adams and Alexis are working on Booster Shots and how we might be effective to present this idea.

Background: Continuing education between leadership courses. Two options to integrate ongoing education.

- Option 1: Defining a decent pre-work package.
- Option 2: Looking at continuing education post L-Series course. Boosting pre-work between classes would continue leadership growth.

This effort would provide a "leadership package" for individuals between training. The hope would be that the Agency Representatives could review these options. The goal is to encourage vendors to integrate classroom leadership and field leadership.

- Mike Ellsworth – Option 1 would be preferable. Suggested expanding on "in-between" course resources.
- Mark Stanford – States would not respond well to Option 2; too many training requirements for States.
- Shane Olpin – Systems are not in place; agencies may not be supportive of extended leadership education between courses as a requirement.
- Pam MacDonald – Consider the portal and website delivery.

SUCCESSIONAL PLANNING(Wood)

Successional planning is an issue for the LC. Agency Representatives and ad hoc members should recruiting backups and mentoring replacements as well as promoting the Leadership Committee.

EXPERIENTIAL WORKING GROUP DEVELOPMENT

(Wood)

- The intent and effort of standing up a new group is to reach a larger audience.
- Virtual staff rides have been examined as a tool. The military has taken that concept and transitioned it to something more accessible.
- Looking for new technologies and tools to bring into the learning environment.
- The pandemic is showcasing the need to expand into the virtual workspace.
- The LC discuss place as an agenda topic for the next meeting.
