

National Incident Management System Integration Committee

Conference Call Notes

March 19, 2019

On the call

Mike Mattfeldt, Deb Fleming, Zeph Cunningham, Jason Steinmetz, Ken Kehmna, Gordy Sachs, Karen Kufta, Steve Griffin, Deanna Crawford, Paul Hannemann, Mike Kaminski

Notes

Document Review/ National Engagements:

- Radiological Operations Support Specialist (ROSS) and Position Task Book Due April 8
- NIMS NQS Supplemental Guide for Coaches and Evaluators Due April 4
- NIMS NQS Supplemental Guide for Qualification Review Boards Due April 4
- Resource Typing Definitions regarding HAZMAT response released under the Environmental Response/Health and Safety core capability Due March 28

<https://www.fema.gov/national-incident-management-system/national-engagement>

Mike Mattfeldt will collect comments and send a consolidated response.

National Response Framework (NRF), Fourth Edition Draft

There are three major changes:

1. Incorporation of Community Lifelines (e.g. components, definition, purpose, and stabilization);
2. Renewed emphasis on existing and new concepts (e.g. private sector integration and cross-sector coordination); and
3. Reorganization and general streamlining of legacy content (e.g. new sections).

NIMS Federal Implementation

Incorporated input for local and tribal jurisdictions. Coast Guard and Energy were involved with drafting the objectives.

Personnel Updates

Erin Hoffman is replacing Dan Alexander as NIC Director. She will be interim until the position is filled permanently. Dan has accepted a promotion as Deputy Assistant Administrator for Field Operations within FEMA's Office of Response and Recovery.

Karen Kufta has accepted a position with BLM Nevada. Steve Griffin and Deanna Crawford are detailed for 120 days into the All Hazard Branch.

Paul Hannemann is working with FEMA Field Operations Division in DC for 90 days.

National Incident Management System Integration Committee

Next meeting

If a face to face meeting is not established in April, the next conference call is April 16, 2019.